Think of Sedona and the first thing that comes to mind is its spectacular red rocks. The second thing is probably the spiritual and metaphysical side to this pretty little city of a just over 10,000. Sedona, by some, is considered the psychic capital of the world and supports many new age businesses – from astrologers, to aura readers, to intuitives, to guided tours of the famous vortexes that are believed to enhance the powers of prayer, healing and meditation.

Ray Holley and Linda Deir say they can provide people with a heads up when it comes to what will be happening in the future. “What we do is predict the “News Before It Happens” in our Channeled Readings, LLC ... CR News Reports© Membership,” said Deir. “We are the Nostradamus of the NEWS.”

The couple said it is their mission to provide the News Before It Happens, so their clients don’t “get run over by the train that is about to come,” which allows them to position themselves to avoid damage to their lives and finances, said Deir.

Their monthly news reports, which come from “higher powers,” center on 14 topics, including Real Estate, technology, world events, terrorists, the stock market, the global economy, sports, crime and personal improvement.

“By the time you get news [in the traditional ways], it’s already happened. It’s history. This is news you can use before it happens,” Holley said.

The two, both longtime Sedona residents, contact these higher powers, a collection of experts on each topic, by using a talking board which is marked with letters and numbers. The messages are spelled out exactly as the higher powers convey, and then verbalized by the couple.

About 600 people subscribe to the service and they are mostly men ages 30 to 55. Sedona resident Candace Czarny, a happy subscriber, said it helps her make better decisions in the present knowing what will take place in the future. For instance, she bought gold when it was selling low a few years ago. “I made a lot of money based on that decision,” she said. “The key is acting on the information that I get in the CR News Reports© because I know what’s coming; I don’t make bad decisions anymore.
